

What would this subject enable me to do when I finish school?

History isn't about becoming a librarian or working in a museum! History provides the skills that any employer would want! History creates learners that can think for themselves and problem solve and think on their feet. Most lawyers and politicians have history in their bag of qualifications! Whether it is acting, teaching, the law, art or even management, history is a valuable qualification for success.

How parents or other members of the public can find out more about the curriculum your subject is following

<http://www.aqa.org.uk/subjects/history/gcse/history-8145>

