

Extra-curriculum activities

Joint trips have taken place to Munich and Barcelona. In addition, various design exhibitions have been visited, with invitations to specialist high-profile speakers at educational venues, and events where students are engaged in practical projects.

What would this subject enable me to do when I finish school? / Career Paths

There is an extensive range of opportunities and careers to follow for students who achieve good results in Design Technology. Most universities offer courses to specialise in certain areas of design, from automotive, industrial and general product design. Good apprenticeships are also available, based on skills gained in the workshop. Many students have been successful in obtaining placements based on the high quality of work that they have produced for GCSE.
